A Dedicated Service for a
Better Infrastructure

ABOUT US

World class projects require world class equipment. That is where Sai Infra Equipments comes into play. With our state of the art line of equipment, our clients have been shaping their plans into reality. We take pride in knowing that our services provide solutions in projects that are designed to benefit the masses. We have been involved in infrastructure development all over the country, and our associations have been with small firms to MNCs. Sai Infra Equipments works in the field of construction equipment hiring. With humble roots that were established in 1985, as aggregate contractors. In 1995, we moved into excavation using loaders, tippers and heavy earth excavating machinery – we have worked our way to a position where we are considered leaders in our industry. In 2002, we gradually ventured in to the Ready Mix Concrete (RMC) field, with investments in transit mixtures and concrete pumps. Our next move was into Batching Plants, in the year 2005. After two years, in 2007, we began working with Tower Cranes. Today, we take pride in saying that we hold the largest fleet of Tower Cranes in the hiring segment, and the third largest fleet all over in the construction industry in India.

WHY US

Understanding the Essence of Service - Thirty years of working with some of the biggest clients in the Indian construction industry has helped us develop as a company that takes on challenges, and sees them through to satisfactory completion. It is not just our satisfaction that counts, it is that of the client that matters most. We have developed our processes and policies keeping in mind that the client is foremost. Our approach to work is such that we are able to provide the client the best solutions, no matter what task is at hand. While working with us you will realize our understanding of the essence and quality of service that we aspire to deliver. Unlike most large businesses, we at Sai Infraequipments, though we own huge fleet of equipment, believe when it comes to service – customer satisfaction is our top priority.
